Security Manager I

Description

Administered through The Security Officer Network's custom curriculum and assessment portal, this is the first part of The Security Officer Network's comprehensive primer on private security management. Told from the perspective of the small security owner who directly manages his own security agency, many of the lessons in the course are germane to any security supervisor.

Objectives

Upon completion of the course, the participant should:

Know the ins and outs of exceptional client relations;

Have insight into the science of employee assignment; and

Understand basic best practices of site operation.

Requirements

The participant must submit six reading assignments and complete a fifteen-question timed assessment.

Level

This is an advanced level course.
